Dear Yevhen (Evgeniy) Sliuzko,

I write to you today to thank you for the efforts you have exerted to promote the work of Jacqe Fresco and The Venus Project.

Due to recent world events it has become necessary to document our working relationship and require you to acknowledge my letter by signing and dating each page and returning a scanned copy back to me.

Your social media activity has amassed quite a following with your main YouTube account having 1.54 m followers with 325 million views.

I've collected what I think are your main platforms below:

If there are any others do let me know.

With my letter to you today, I formally acknowledge your work and reiterate the continuation of your royalty free license granted to you for all Russian speaking territories.

This written confirmation supersedes all previous arrangements, written, verbal, inferred or implied except any NDA's which were signed..

Your license allows you to exclusively promote Jacque Fresco's work and The Venus Project (TVP) in all Russian speaking territories and only in the Russian or Ukrainian languages. You are permitted, with no payments to myself, as I am the exclusive owner of all property rights associated with Jacque Fresco, his ideas, his work and all work of The Venus Project, including the words "The Venus Project", letters TVP or tvp and variants and parts thereof; to convert and translate any material we have already placed into the public domain, past, present and future, onto any format or platform that you believe best serves the message contained in such material.

As you know Jacques meant everything to me and I am dedicated to ensuring his legacy continues as long as is necessary until his work becomes embedded in our societies for the betterment of all humanity.

It has become necessary to plan to build a city modeled on TVP taking into consideration all that has transpired through the decades that TVP has been developing our methodology.

The Venus Project will develop a set of theoretical models presented as 'scenarios' for various 'energy outcomes' to maximize a variety of plausible transition strategies. These scenarios will be introduced under the promotional name, 'Venus Evolution' that focus on practical 'transition'.

I look forward to sharing more details with you in coming months as we build working relationships with architects, funding partners, energy suppliers and other professionals around the world.

Please sign and date each page of my letter to you and return a scanned copy to me within the next 7 business days.

Yours sincerely,

Roxanne Meadows
